1. Details on the Toepchin (N 53/Z 91) Ammunition Dump, which is located in the Soviet Zone of Germany,*were previously reported.

2. The following is reported on the basis of available records

25X1

(1) Ad b: The exact location of the four tanks (flame thrower liquid) is not known. Each container is said to be 8 meters long and 2.5 meters in diameter. This would correspond to a total capacity of approximately 10,000 liters or 2,650 gallons for each tank.

(2) Ad d: The previously reported *flame thrower which is being assembled and made serviceable in Toepchin is probably the Soviet pack-type ROKS-2 flame thrower, technical data on which is not known. The individual parts of this type flame thrower are said to be delivered from Berlin, Leipzig (N 52/E 21) and Zwickau (N 51/K 34). The flame thrower containers are filled with the oily and bluish liquid stored in the tanks. While source reports a filling of 3 liters, the container of the ROKS-2 flame thrower has a capacity of 10 liters.

(3) Ad e: The reason for the Gruenberg (N 54/Q 24) Ammunition Dump receiving only antiaircraft ammunition from the Toepchin Depot (see a previous report*) is not known. In reports on the Gruenberg Dump it is stated that ammunition of all types, including bombs, is stored there.

(4) Ad f: Reliable information permitting an estimate of the ammunition stock on hand in Toepchin is not available. The previously reported stock of flame thrower oil appears incredible with regard to available storage facilities (see para 2 (1)).

(5) Ad g: The Toepchin Ammunition Depot receives rail shipments (ammunition and full boxes (sic) without any labels) from Schoenebeck (N 53/D 78), Dannenwalde (N 54/U 61), Rudolstadt (N 51/J 54), Eichfeld (N 51/J 44), Berlin (N 53/Z 65), Leipzig (N 52/E 21) and Zwickau. Ammunition shipments from the Soviet Union, although not yet observed, are believed probable.

* Earlier erroneously reported as located in Czechoslovakia
